2024-2025

WELCOME TO OUR REMARKABLE HOME

We acknowledge this land on which the University of Toronto operates. For thousands of years it has been the traditional land of the Huron-Wendat, the Seneca, and the Mississaugas of the Credit. Today, this meeting place is the home to many Indigenous people from across Turtle Island, and we are grateful to have the opportunity to work on this land.

WELCOME TO THE FACULTY OF LAW

At the University of Toronto, we offer one of the world's outstanding legal educations. To be a student at our law school is to join a wonderful community of the finest legal scholars and students, working together in the pursuit of academic and professional excellence.

You will learn from our remarkable faculty, who regularly win major research awards, and are thought leaders in academia, the legal profession and public policy. Studying at U of T Law will give you access to some of North America's most established co-curricular opportunities that will acquaint you with the best of the legal profession both locally and internationally. You might work on criminal appeals pending before the Ontario Court of Appeal or Supreme Court of Canada, help provide advice to legal aid clients in immigration or refugee matters, volunteer for the UN while on an international human rights internship, or help give legal advice to tech start-ups at law firms and incubators across the city.

Our commitment to inclusive excellence and the public interest means that as a student, you will be part of a community with a wide range of knowledge, experiences and perspectives. A legal education at U of T not only teaches legal doctrine, but also equips students with analytical tools that give them an edge in tackling complex real-world problems. Our graduates go on to leadership positions in public interest organizations, politics, business, on the bench and bar, and much more with an education that serves them well in making a transformative impact on our community.

I am excited about the future of our law school. Its faculty and students provide intellectual leadership for and engagement with the rapidly changing world around us. Our Jackman Law Building, includes innovative technology and houses many of the programs and centres that make this faculty truly unique. Expanded classrooms and social spaces create dynamic engagement opportunities for students, professors and the community.

I hope that you'll take up our invitation to visit with us as you carefully consider the many options available to you.

Growing up as a Métis, my interest in Indigenous law was recatalyzed by the faculty and community at U of T which centered the intersection of the theoretical and pragmatic. This gave me the grounding to explore options beyond traditional law firms and work directly with Indigenous communities, supporting and advocating for what they understand reconciliation and self-governance to mean for their people.

Admissions

For full details on our JD admission policies, requirements and application procedures, visit law.utoronto.ca/admissions

SELECTION

Our admissions process is designed to identify exceptional students who bring a broad set of life experiences to the study of law.

We consider all aspects of your application: academic, intellectual and personal.

The assessment is based two-thirds on the academic record and LSAT, and one-third on personal information. Our “whole person review” includes at least three readers, including faculty, staff and students. We have no quotas of any kind. We seek outstanding candidates from a wide variety of institutions, who come from across Canada and the world, of a variety of ages, with varied life experiences. This careful process allows us to assemble a vibrant and inclusive class where you will flourish.

JD ADMISSION CATEGORIES

General – the majority of applicants.

Indigenous – Indigenous people, including those of First Nations (status and non-status), Métis and Inuit heritage, whose representation in the legal profession we strive to increase.

Mature – those who will have at least five complete years of non-academic experience (outside of full-time study) by September 2022.

BLACK STUDENT APPLICATION PROCESS (BSAP)

Regardless of admission category, Black candidates can opt to apply to this stream, which aims to increase Black law student representation at U of T Law.

BSAP applicants will have their personal profiles reviewed by members of the Black community, including our staff, students, faculty and alumni.

You must meet the same LSAT and academic requirements for admission that we seek from all candidates. BSAP does not have a designated quota for admission.

To be considered for BSAP, apply to a JD program by our standard deadlines and procedures, and also select the BSAP option in the School Submissions section of the application form.

First-Year Admission Requirements

ACADEMIC RECORD & GPA

By the end of May 2024, you will have successfully completed at least a three-year undergraduate degree at a recognized institution.

No particular courses are recommended. Almost all of our students have completed a four-year undergraduate university degree. Over the last decade, all of the admitted Mature applicants had some university education.

Last year’s entering class had a 3.90 out of 4.0 median GPA on their best three years of full-time undergraduate study.

LSAT: LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION TEST

For entry in August 2024, we accept scores from standard and Flex tests taken from June 2019 to January 2024 inclusive. Last year’s entering class had a median LSAT score of 167 (94th percentile).

PERSONAL STATEMENT

This is your opportunity to introduce yourself to the selection committee, help it assess your likelihood of success at the Faculty of Law and predict what your contributions to the class will be. Try to demonstrate how your academics, experience (work and personal) and career goals make you an excellent fit for the program.

OPTIONAL ADDITIONAL ESSAY

You may provide further personal information from a choice of topics we suggest, such as a meaningful intellectual experience, a vision of your future goals, obstacles to achievement, or how your identity, background and experiences will contribute to the diversity of the law school.

BSAP ESSAY

Black Student Application Process candidates must submit the standard admission materials plus an essay highlighting why they chose the BSAP stream.

RÉSUMÉS

Required for Mature applicants only.

INTERVIEWS, REFERENCES, GRE, GMAT, TOEFL, IELTS

These are neither required nor requested.

A big part of law school is the community itself and I enjoy playing a role in fostering a supportive and vibrant student community. This motivated me to be active in governance to serve all my fellow law students and create a new club that connects Latin American students across different law schools in Canada. I've enjoyed the camaraderie and friendships that arose from teamwork while mooting in 1L, helping to seek justice for victims of atrocious crimes in foreign countries and providing legal expertise and market research for start up companies. The opportunities here are simply amazing.

1L

Our first year (1L) program encourages you to develop close connections with your peers and professors. We will provide you with a deep and rigorous legal foundation rooted in diverse academic views about law and legal methodology.

EQUITY, DIVERSITY & INCLUSIVITY (EDI)

We strive to create a sense of belonging to ensure that the law school community – and the profession – is inclusive.

In our first year EDI series, students interact with legal scholars, practitioners and experts who provide critical perspectives on the link between equity and the practice of law.

The Office of the Assistant Dean, EDI oversees the implementation of the law school's EDI strategies while our Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Committee also supports efforts to embed EDI principles in all law school activities and policies.

LEGAL METHODS INTENSIVE

One of the central goals of our JD Program is to train you to “think like a lawyer.” The first year begins with a legal methods intensive course during the last two weeks in August, that introduces you to the foundational information and reasoning needed to make the most of the JD program.

LEGAL RESEARCH AND WRITING

The work product of lawyers consists of words that must be carefully selected based on deep understanding and research. Our experts will guide you through a series of carefully designed research and writing assignments to equip you to produce well-crafted legal text.

INDIGENOUS PEOPLES AND THE LAW

JANUARY INTERSESSION

U of T Law attracts leading visiting academics from the world's top law schools.

Held in early January, the intercession offers intensive, week-long courses taught by visiting professors offering diverse perspectives on a huge range of legal topics.

I deliberated for two years before quitting my job as a tax manager to return to school. As a mother of two young children, I was afraid that I would not be able to commit fully to law school. However, after discussions with some of the most reputable professors in their field and surrounding myself with inspiring peers, I can say with confidence that I'll never regret my decision to attend U of T Law.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

Making the connection between the classroom and real-life lawyering will prepare you for practice in whatever area you choose.

At U of T Law the range of experiential opportunities is impressive. You can take a course in trial advocacy, compete in an intellectual property moot, immerse yourself in an international human rights clinic, do an externship with the municipal government, or deliver pro bono services to communities facing barriers to justice.

IN-HOUSE CLINICS

Exclusive to our law students, U of T Law houses several legal clinics that offer academic credit in part-time, half-time and intensive, full-time formats. Students can also volunteer. Our clinics are led by full-time directors who are highly-regarded experts in their fields.

THE DAVID ASPER CENTRE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS

The Asper Centre focuses on advocacy, research and education about Canadian constitutional rights. Students work on leading constitutional and Charter rights cases at the highest courts in Canada and learn how to advocate for Charter-based law reform.

THE INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS PROGRAM (IHRP)

Established in 1987, our IHRP serves as a centre for international human rights work, through which experienced lawyers, faculty members, and law students engage in meaningful social change. The IHRP serves as a partner in international and domestic social movements, that encourage Canada's adherence to its international human rights commitments, while training the next generation of movement lawyers in Canada. Students acquire litigation and advocacy experience in areas such as

DOWNTOWN LEGAL SERVICES (DLS)

DLS is the law school's community legal clinic. Students assist clients who are experiencing legal problems in a number of high priority areas of law including criminal, employment, family, housing, refugee and immigration and university affairs. In their work at DLS, students critically examine the intersections of law and social inequality while developing the professionalism and ethical literacy that is essential to practicing law.

FUTURE OF LAW LAB

The lab explores the intersections between technology, entrepreneurship and innovation. Students discover how artificial intelligence and machine learning algorithms are changing the practice of law, discuss the many impacts of technology on society, and learn about design-thinking concepts as they formulate solutions to the most pressing issues affecting access to justice.

INVESTOR PROTECTION CLINIC (IPC)

The IPC is committed to a diverse range of initiatives that empower and educate the community. Its work focuses on protecting vulnerable populations who are at risk of suffering harm and financial loss relating to their investments, including the elderly and newcomers to Canada. By participating in these ground-breaking projects, such as community education seminars and the development of policy recommendations, IPC students become active players in shaping the destiny of the financial sector while enriching the lives of those around them.

“

I'm here to learn, engage and make a difference. In my first year I've honed my writing skills from co-editing the Prisoner's Right Handbook on inmates' constitutional rights through the Asper clinic. It's also been gratifying to support undergrad students with getting into law school as a BLSA reviewer of admission personal statements and as LSAT instructor and co-facilitator of the inaugural LSPP@UTSC. It's meant a lot to see how sharing my own law school journey has inspired and encouraged them toward their own.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT THAT MAKES EVERYTHING POSSIBLE

Choosing to go to law school is a significant and rewarding investment in your life. If you are offered admission, tuition should not be a barrier to your education or your career. The Faculty of Law's approach to financial aid is different than most law schools. With less than a handful of merit scholarships available, we apply an equitable and transparent approach to giving aid, where the students with the greatest financial need receive the most assistance.

POST-GRADUATION DEBT REPAYMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The rumours are true: most law students in North America graduate with some debt. They also go on to fulfilling positions in a range of fields. Many of our students choose to dedicate themselves to legal aid clinics or specialty law firms that offer relatively lower-paying salaries. To support their career choices, we assist these students with the repayment of their eligible law school debt for up to ten years after graduation. Ours is the only program of its kind in Canada.

NO GUESSING GET AN INSTANT AID ESTIMATE

Coming from a small town and being the first in my family to attend university, I thought my dream of attending U of T Law would be unachievable. This was prior to me learning about their incredible JD financial aid program.

For example, during my second year I received a bursary that covered over 60% of my tuition as well as interest-free loans to cover the remaining expenses. Thanks to the aid support, I was unimpeded financially, which enabled me to land my dream job. I could completely focus on my studies, extracurriculars and building a great network without worrying about debt and affording tuition.
