

CLASSROOM ENTRY & EXIT PROCEDURES

- The larger classrooms in Jackman Hall have two doors. One is clearly designated as the entrance, and the other is clearly designated as the exit. Please do not leave through the entrance, or enter through the exit.
- Students should follow a circular pattern through the room, entering through one door, sitting during class, and exiting through the other door.
- Once in the classroom, students should stay on the side of the room of the entrance. Please walk to the row you wish to occupy, and walk all the way to the end of the row, taking the last available seat.
- When leaving the classroom, through the exit door, please exit in the same manner.
- Law school community members who with mobility issues should use the door that best meets their needs.

These steps will allow everyone to enter and exit classrooms safely, without having to brush past each other in order to get to empty seats. We hope that within a few weeks this will become second nature. We appreciate everyone's cooperation.
