On August 10, 2016, Caleb Orozco achieved the first-ever successful court challenge to a Caribbean anti-sodomy law. This remarkable accomplishment has sent shock waves across the region where nine other jurisdictions still retain anti-sodomy laws, largely imposed during British colonization. Caleb will provide an enthusiastic presentation on the work that led up to this ground-breaking case, the status of the appeal by the Government of Belize, and how the global north can effectively assist with the ongoing Caribbean LGBTQI liberation effort.
