

The new Investor Protection Clinic at UofT gives law students unique opportunities to learn through assisting clients with their legal claims, developing and delivering public legal education, and collaborating with regulators and key stakeholders on policy projects and litigation to promote investor protection.

Students, including 1Ls, can volunteer with our working groups this fall (Projects Explorer and CLEO). Upper years can volunteer for the working group on Project SRO.

Find out more about the IPC's Working Groups at the Clubs Fair and the online information session on September 14, 2020 at 12:45pm. Zoom details will be on the Public Interest Groups flyer.
