

The Aboriginal Law Program Speaker Series at the University of Toronto Faculty of Law Presents:

Tsilhqot'in v BC: Legal and Practical Implications

Featuring co-counsel for Tsilhqot'in First Nation at the SCC and U of T Law alumnus, Dominique Nouvet

Friday, January 16, 12:30-2pm Falconer Hall, FA3

Lunch provided; RSVP required: promise.holmesskinner@utoronto.ca

Join Ms. Nouvet for a discussion on Tsilhqot'in v British Columbia 2014 SCC 44, the groundbreaking case that advanced Aboriginal land rights, on which she acted as co-counsel. Ms. Nouvet specializes in Aboriginal law in Victoria BC, practicing in areas including consultation and accommodation; Aboriginal and Treaty rights litigation; Indian Act and First Nations disputes; SCC interventions; administrative law; and negotiations.

