

THE CANADIAN CLASS ACTION REVIEW

Announcing the Seventeenth Annual...

HARVEY T. STROSBERG ESSAY PRIZE

Value: $10,000

Irwin Law Inc., publisher of the Canadian Class Action Review, is pleased to announce the Harvey T. Strosberg Essay Prize for the best student essay on class actions.

Deadline: April 6, 2020

Eligibility: All Canadian university students enrolled in undergraduate, graduate, or professional programs are eligible to submit an essay on any aspect of class actions, including the law, accounting, computer science, management, public relations, and financing issues.

The $10,000 prize is awarded annually. This year, essays must be submitted by April 6, 2020. The winner will be announced in the summer, and the winning paper will be published in an upcoming issue of the Canadian Class Action Review. By submitting a paper for this competition, the author consents to publication in the CCAR in print and/or electronic form.

A national prize board, composed of a panel of distinguished lawyers and judges, has been established to review the submissions and to choose the prizewinner.

Please note: All essay submissions must be typed and be between 8,000 and 15,000 words. Please use the (McGill) Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation, 9th edition, and the Canadian Oxford Dictionary. We also ask that you submit a short abstract of no more than 250 words with your paper. If you are submitting a paper in French, please provide an English abstract. Co-authored papers will be accepted. However, if a co-authored paper does win the competition, the $10,000 prize will be split among all authors. Only one paper may be submitted by each student.
