Law School Access Program

2020 SUMMER JOB AT UofT LAW

Seeking LSAT Instructor(s)

The Faculty of Law is looking to hire one person full-time or two persons part-time, who are dynamic, engaging presenters with a proven ability to motivate others to run its law school preparatory program for low-income students. As the LSAT Instructor you will be responsible for providing exceptional instruction to large classes of 25 participants each, and demonstrating subject matter expertise on all things related to the LSAT.

ELIGIBILITY

You must have an official LSAT score at or above the 90th percentile. A strong preference will be given to candidates with experience as an LSAT instructor or tutor.

MAIN DUTIES

The instructor will be responsible for updating the current, and developing new, LSAT course materials, and for delivering the course in its entirety at the law school and at a law firm in downtown Toronto from May 1st to August 28th (16 weeks). The pay is tentatively at $16/hr plus 4% vacation pay.

The class times will be arranged with the instructor, who should plan for providing instruction at weekday evening classes and/or weekday daytime classes from May 4th to August 20th.

The instructor will also need to be available for additional mentoring, classroom prep time, mock testing time on one weekend day, and responding to student emails (which can be done flexibly in order to accommodate other commitments).

HOW TO APPLY & APPLICATION DEADLINE

Email: - a statement of interest, specifying any LSAT tutoring/teaching experience
- your LSAT candidate report showing your score
- a resume
