

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The University of Toronto Faculty of Law Review is now accepting submissions for Volume 73(2).

The Law Review accepts submissions from current law students (LLB/JD), graduate students (LLM/SJD), articling students, students clerking at a court in any jurisdiction, and recent law school graduates. The Law Review does not have a particular thematic focus—we consider for publication any piece of student scholarship containing novel subject matter related to legal thought or debate that may be of interest to Canadian readers. Articles with an international focus, however, must have a clear application to Canadian legal literature.

The Law Review will automatically consider submissions for the Spring issue of the Law Review for our Torys Fellowships.

Please submit by January 2nd, 2015, via the online portal at utflr.utoronto.ca.
