Reproductive and Sexual Rights in Sub-Saharan African Courts

Volume III

Reproductive and sexual rights, which are guaranteed in constitutions and in international and regional human rights treaties, have no impact if they are not recognized and enforced by national-level courts. Legal Grounds: Sexual and Reproductive Rights in Sub-Saharan African Courts Volume III continues to provide much-needed information about whether and how national courts of African countries apply human rights laws in decisions that affect the rights of women and others. The case summaries and thematic highlights can be useful resources for advocates seeking to further develop litigation, advocacy, and capacity building strategies.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Legal Grounds III: Reproductive and Sexual Rights in Sub-Saharan African Courts is a joint publication of the International Reproductive and Sexual Health Law Program of the University of Toronto, Canada; the Centre for Human Rights, Faculty of Law, at the University of Pretoria, South Africa; and the Center for Reproductive Rights, New York. It is the expanded third volume in a series originally conceived by Kibrom Isaak, LL.M., a graduate of the International Reproductive and Sexual Health Law Program, who organised and wrote the prototype, and drafted most of the first two volumes.

The editors of Legal Grounds III are tremendously grateful to all those who have supported us to produce this book. The planning and execution would not have been possible without a grant from the Ford Foundation. African publication and dissemination were generously supported, through the Centre for Human Rights, by The Open Society Foundations.

The Chief-Editor of Volume III is Godfrey Dalitso Kangaude BPhil (PUU), LL.B Hons (Mw), LL.M (UFS), LL.M (UCLA), Director of Nyale Institute for Sexual and Reproductive Health Governance, now a Doctor of Laws candidate at the University of Pretoria. He coordinated the identification and collation of materials, drafting and editing of case summaries, and provided editorial support to the other contributors to the project.

Throughout the drafting process, Legal Grounds III benefited from the invaluable input, feedback, and support of Professors Rebecca Cook and Bernard Dickens, Co-Directors of the International Reproductive and Sexual Health Law Program, and Professor Charles Ngwenya, Co-coordinator of the LL.M/M.Phil Program in Sexual & Reproductive Rights in Africa of the Centre for Human Rights, Faculty of Law, at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. Linda Hutjens, Ph.D., Coordinator at the International Reproductive and Sexual Health Law Program, managed and provided critical support with the book's drafting and editing.

Special thanks go to Onyema Afulukwe, LL.M., Senior Legal Adviser for Africa at the Center for Reproductive Rights, and a graduate of the International Reproductive and Sexual Health Law Program, University of Toronto, who authored the general introduction, one case summary, and one highlight. She also managed a diverse team of pro bono lawyers and associates from the public-spirited law firm of Weil, Gotshal & Manges, LLP, from which we specifically thank Amanda Do Couto, Dena Medford, Katherine Meister, Daniel Musher, Alex Purtill, Gemma Sage, Pan Vang, and Dana Watts for summarizing an additional fourteen decisions for our editor. For overseeing the review, editing and proofreading of all of the case summaries, we are most grateful to the senior lawyers of Weil, Gotshal & Manges, LLP, Annemargaret Connolly and Thomas Goslin; and Onyema Afulukwe, the final reviewer of the case summaries, introductions and highlights.

Of the fifty-four cases summarised in this volume, thirteen were kindly drafted by students who enrolled in the LL.M./M.Phil program on Sexual and Reproductive Rights in Africa at the University of Pretoria's Centre for Human Rights in 2014: Rudo Chigudu, Yumba Kakhobwe, Martha Nambuyaga, Nthabiseng Lelisa, Phiwo Nyobo, Keikantse Phele, Dominic Rono, Mobby Rusere, Annagrace Rwehumbiza, Winnet Shamuyarira, and Phillipa Tucker. We thank them for their helpful contributions.

We are particularly grateful to Guy-Fleury Ntwari, Ph.D in Law, Senior Researcher and Lecturer of Law at the Faculté du Droit, Université Jean Moulin (Lyon 3) in France, who, learning about the project just a few months before submission, kindly authored the Francophone chapter and expanded our Francophone bibliography. For assistance in his efforts to trace decisions from Francophone Africa, we would like to thank Dr. Gérard Aivo from Bénin, Alice Nkom from Cameroon, Orquidea Massarango from Mozambique, and Eduardo Kapapelo from Angola.

For writing expert introductions and highlight comments, we would like to express our deep appreciation of the following contributors:

Ebenezer Durojaye, Dullah Omar Institute, University of the Western Cape, for “HIV” and “Sexual and Reproductive Rights of Women Living with HIV;”

Godfrey Kangaude, for “Children and Adolescents,” “Child Marriage: Legal and Socio-Cultural Aspects,” “Adolescent consensual sexual conduct,” and “Towards Respect for Human Diversity;”

Jacinta Nyachae, Executive Director of the AIDS Law Project, for “Criminalisation of HIV Non-Disclosure, Exposure, and Transmission;”

MaryFrances Lukera, Ph.D. candidate, University of Sussex, for “Gender, Sexuality, Women and Discrimination;”

Onyema Afulukwe, Senior Legal Adviser for Africa, Center for Reproductive Rights, for “Abortion and Fetal Interests;”

Ronaldah Lerato Karabo Ozah, Attorney, Centre for Child Law, University of Pretoria, for “Adoption and Surrogacy;”

Tinyade Kachika, Consultant on women’s human rights, for “Maternal Health Care and Services;” and

Victoria Balogun, School of Law, University of Kwazulu-Natal, for “Sexual Abuse, Assault and Violence toward Adolescents.”

For assistance in obtaining copies of hard-to-find Anglophone decisions, we are particularly grateful to Ebenezer Durojaye, Yinka Owoeye, Seth Earn, Neela Ghoshal, Eric Gitari, Elin Martinez, William Ndengeyinka, Camilla Pickles, and the valiant case-collectors at the Gender Justice Observatory of Women’s Link Worldwide.

For assistance in finding appropriate specialists to author certain sections, we appreciate the help of Camilla Pickles, Frans Viljoen, and Godfrey Kangaude.

For excellent research assistance, we sincerely thank certain law students from the University of Toronto’s Faculty of Law: Jainita Gajjar for finding and charting appropriate cases; Michelle Hayman for the Anglophone bibliography; Shalu Atwal for the Francophone bibliography; and Suzanne Zaccour, an LL.M. candidate, for expertly proofreading the Francophone chapter, translating it for English readers, and finalizing case citations. For proofreading all of the English case summaries, we sincerely thank Kerry Burns.

Special thanks to Lilian Sepúlveda, Vice President, Global Legal Program, at the Center for Reproductive Rights, for her invaluable support and Katy Mayall, Senior Manager, Global Legal Program, for her review and editorial comments. Special thanks also to Chi Nguyen, Senior Designer at the Center, for laying out the report, and Yara Calcaño, Legal Assistant in the Global Legal Program for supporting the layout process.

Finally, we are most grateful to Professors Charles Ngweni and Frans Viljoen of the Centre for Human Rights at University of Pretoria, Lizette Herman of the Pretoria University Law Press (PULP), and Yolanda Boozyen of AFRICLAW for their crucial roles in producing and disseminating the print and electronic editions of this publication in the African region.

*The views and opinions expressed in this book are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the official policy or position of the Center for Reproductive Rights, The International Reproductive and Sexual Health Law Program, the University of Toronto's Faculty of Law, nor the Centre for Human Rights at the University of Pretoria.
