Aeyal Gross and I are overseeing a major research project that looks at the impact of health rights litigation on equality of access to health services. This workshop was the first in-person meeting of our contributors, and provided an opportunity to present and discuss first drafts. October 22, 2010, Toronto, Ontario.
2. Coordinated the Health Law and Policy Seminar Series at the Faculty of Law, 1999-2009. See <<http://www.law.utoronto.ca/healthlaw/>>.
3. Co-organizer and speaker for Symposium in honour of Prof. Michael Trebilcock. The two-day symposium hosted over 40 presenters and moderators from universities from across Canada and around the world including U of T, UBC, Queen's and University of Montreal in Canada, Haifa and Hebrew University in Israel, Manchester and Kent in England, Harvard, Yale, Johns Hopkins, UC Berkeley and NYU in the United States and the University of Otago in New Zealand. Participants included senior academics, university presidents and Supreme Court justices. Panellist: Re-inventing Government Panel, "The Evidentiary Burden for Overturning Government's Choice of Regulatory Instrument: The Case of Direct-to-Consumer Advertising of Prescription Drugs". October

1-2, 2009, Toronto, Ontario.

4. Led the organization of a pan-Canadian summit on primary healthcare entitled “Patient-Oriented Primary Healthcare: Scaling Up Innovation”. This two-day event was held in January in Toronto and attracted more than 480 participants with 64 speakers from International and Canadian organizations which include a variety of stakeholder groups, including researchers, healthcare providers, policy makers, and patient and provider organizations.
5. With substantial financial support to a combined total of $137,000 from 15 partners including 10 CIHR Institutes, Canadian Medical Association, Canadian Nurses Association, Canadian Institute of Health Information, Canadian Health Services Research Foundation and The College of Family Physicians, Canada, CIHR IHSPR was able to leverage its limited financial and in-kind contributions to maximize the impact of the Summit and catalyze momentum to improve Primary Healthcare research.
6. This extensive partner involvement signalled that primary healthcare is indeed a matter of concern across a broad range of health system stakeholders. The event was a success, and featured 64 speakers and leading thinkers from Canada and abroad in plenary talks, panel sessions, and over twenty concurrent workshops. January 18-19, 2010, Toronto, Ontario.
7. Coordinated a national conference on Health Information – “Access to Data: Accountability and Responsibility,” October, 2008, Toronto, Ontario.
8. Coordinated a Grant Writing Workshop and Seminar at the 2008 Canadian Association for Health Services and Policy Research conference. May 25-28, 2008, Gatineau, Quebec.
9. Coordinated (with Lorne Sossin) Administrative Law Text Symposium, June 11, 2007, Toronto, Ontario.
10. Co-host (Faculty of Law, University of Toronto) with Greg Marchildon (Graduate School of Public Policy, University of Regina) of the S.O.S. Medicare 2: Looking Forward Conference at the Queensbury Convention Centre, Regina, Saskatchewan, May 3-4, 2007. The Conference was one of the most important gatherings of thinkers, policy-makers and activists concerned about the future of the Canadian medicare system at a critical juncture in its history. With over 500 attendees and speakers from across North America and Europe, it offered a broad perspective of the challenges, possible solutions, and hopes for the Canadian healthcare system. Sponsors included the Canadian Health Coalition, the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, Canadian Health Coalition, the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, Saskatchewan Health, Douglas-Coldwell Foundation, CUPE-SCFP, CAW-TCA Canada, Ontario Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care, Province of Manitoba, Canadian Federation of Nurses, Canadian Doctors for Medicare, United Steelworkers, United Nurses of Alberta, Canadian Alliance of Community Health Centre Associations, SEIU – Locals 299, 336, and 333, Canadian Labour Congress, Saskatchewan Federation of Labour, CUPW-STTP, The Council of Canadians, National Union, CUPE Saskatchewan, PSAC-AFPC, Canadian Nurses Association, Parkland Institute, Saskatchewan RN Association, Manitoba Centre for Health Policy, The Atkinson Charitable Foundation, RAO, IBEW, InterPares, Health Sciences Association of Saskatchewan, CAW-TCA Canada, Regina Qu'Appelle Health Region, Saskatchewan Health Council, Ecumenical Health Care Network, Regina Hotel Association, and the American Federation of Labor & Council of Industrial Organization: Building-Construction Trades Dept.

11. "The Convergence of Health and Law International Perspectives" 5th Annual Global Health Research Conference, (Centre for International Health, Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto in collaboration with the Faculty of Law, University of Toronto). May 7-8, 2007, Toronto, Ontario. Some of the topics that be discussed at this conference were: fair distribution of medicines; corporate responsibility; vulnerable populations – unjust health disparities; determinants of health.
12. "CIHR Workshop for Health Reporters", University of Toronto, March 26-27, 2007, Toronto, Ontario. (In collaboration with CIHR Marketing and Communications, Ottawa, Ontario). This workshop was an opportunity for health and science reporters to meet face to face with some of Canada's most renowned researchers (and up-and-coming stars) in the field of health-care services research. Researchers engaged with reporters to learn more about this complex field and benefit from direct interaction with these experts.
13. "Building a Health Human Resources Research and Knowledge Translation Exchange Agenda" workshop (in collaboration with Jamie Hockin, Public Health Agency Canada and Robert Shearer, Health Canada), February 13, 2007, Vancouver, British Columbia. This workshop encouraged discussion among researchers, health research funding organizations, and health system policy and decision makers to help generate health system level HHR research and KTE priorities.
14. "CIHR Training Program in Health Law and Policy – 4th Network Curriculum Meeting" (in collaboration with Jocelyn Downie and Tim Caulfield). November 16-17, 2006, Montreal, Quebec.
15. "Social Insurance for Health Care: Economic, Legal and Political Considerations" conference, School of Public Policy & Governance, (with Mark Stabile and Carolyn Tuohy), University of Toronto, November 9-10, 2006. This two-day conference brought together leaders in healthcare financing to discuss how to prevent healthcare from buckling under the strain of rising costs. It explored alternative ways of financing health care that are consistent with Canadian values but that go beyond the traditional publicly financed system. Discussion also included how to provide more equitable coverage for prescription drugs and how to increase the level of satisfaction with the tax-funded system.
16. "Administrative Law in Context" workshop, Faculty of Law, University of Toronto, (with Lorne Sossin). September 15, 2006, Toronto, Ontario.
17. "Access to Care, Access to Justice: The Legal Debate Over Private Health Insurance" With Lorne Sossin and Kent Roach - organized the Chaoulli conference on September 16, 2005 at the University of Toronto in Toronto, Ontario. We had over 250 people in attendance. We co-edited the papers presented at the conference. The result is a book called Access to Care, Access to Justice: The Legal Debate Over Private Health Insurance in Canada – 27 separate chapters. This was published within a mere two weeks of the date of the conference by the University of Toronto Press in early October 2005 “Healing with Dollars and Sense: The Ethics of Cost-Effectiveness”, December 9-10, 2004. A Workshop funded the CHSRF Medicare Basket and Health Canada. This was done in conjunction with Gopal Sreenivsan, Department of Philosophy.

18. “Careful Consideration: Decision Making in Health Care”. This conference was held on November 30, 2004 in Toronto, Ontario and funded by the CHSRF Medicare Basket project and Health Canada. The audience was a mix of academics, policy makers, and representatives from other organizations from within the health care community. See <http://www.law.utoronto.ca/healthlaw/basket/conference\_careful\_content.html>.
19. “The SARS Crisis” I organized an open public forum on the SARS crisis, Faculty of Law, University of Toronto, May 6, 2003 and presented at this. Other presenters included Michael Trebilcock, Trudo Lemmens, Tom Archibald, Bernard Dickens and Kent Roach.
20. Organized National Health Law Conference entitled “Who Gets It? Who Decides? Issues of Access and Allocation in Health Care” which was held on January 22-24, 2004 at the Sutton Place Hotel, Toronto, Ontario. This conference addressed issues of allocation and access in health care both in Canada and around the world. Speakers included the majority of health law scholars and teachers in Canada as well as invited guests from other jurisdictions. The conference was used as an opportunity to celebrate the work of Bernard Dickens who has now retired. Professor Larry Gostin (Georgetown University) gave a public lecture in honour of Bernard on the topic of the effect of SARS on public health planning. Michael Decter-- appointed Chair of the National Health Council – also spoke at lunch on the second day of the conference.
21. Organized a roundtable on “Life after Kirby and Romanow: Will Real Change Happen?” at the Faculty of Law on December 10, 2002, Toronto, Ontario. The panellists were Carolyn Tuohy, Michael Decter, Hugh Segal and myself.
22. Coordinator of the 2nd Annual Health Law Day, “A Patients’ Bill of Rights for Ontario?” October 12, 2001 at the Faculty of Law, University of Toronto, Toronto, Ontario. Speakers included Ron Paterson (Health and Disability Commission, New Zealand), Wendy K. Mariner (Boston University School of Law), Gilbert S. Sharpe (Cassels Brock & Blackwell) and myself.
